Second short-term staff training has been implemented in Spain

Second short-term staff training has been implemented in Spain between 22-26 November 2021 with the participation of youth workers and young people from Turkey, Spain, and Italy.

First day

Cynthia García Perea, Councillor for Citizen Participation, Culture and Historical Heritage at Vélez-Málaga Town Hall, welcomed the participants.

The training started with getting to know each other, information about the project partners, the project itself and the training schedule. After this, participants were invited to discover the city during the "Treasure Hunt" activity, including the main monuments of Vélez-Málaga, located in the heart of the Axarquía region.

Second day

The second day was dedicated to outdoor team building activities, which gave participants the opportunity to observe their communication and leadership skills. Activities were experience-based and included a lot of reflection. As outdoor environment we used the beach of Torre del Mar, which served us as the warm sun gave the training the perfect touch.

Third day

Participants worked in 3 groups to point out the different interests of involved parties in youth work.

All three perspectives are necessary and important for the successful future planning of projects in this field. At the end of the day, the participants themselves had the opportunity to introduce activities and to explore themselves as trainers in the María Zambrano Park.

Fourth day

On the fourth day of the Inno4Impact project training in Spain, the focus was on:

- The opportunities offered to young people within the scope of Erasmus+, like European Solidarity Corps.
- The factors to be considered during the writing and execution of youth projects.
- The priorities related to the youth topic in the Erasmus+ programme.
- The Youthpass accreditation.

At the end of the day Asociación Caminos very shortly presented the tools of the Symfos for Youth Care project. This was just to show an example on how indoor could be worked with visualisation techniques, if outdoor is not possible.

On the last day

The last day of the project training in Vélez-Málaga ended with a session of Shanarani Youth-led and Shanarani, two projects that tackle gender stereotypes, having been appointed as EPALE Best Practice 2021 in Austria.

We finished the training with recharged batteries and ready to face the next steps of the project before it comes to an end. We will soon be able to give a preview of the training videos for blended learning implementation.
