

“SymfoS for Youth Care” KA2

“SymfoS for Youth Care” is a European project promoting an innovative counseling method based on the approach of Symbol Work by Wilfried Schneider. The objective is to improve integration chances of disadvantaged young people (NEETS) in Europe. Working with symbols allows young people to express themselves in an additional, universal language and to get them to reach themselves. Furthermore, symbols can be helpful in situations that are difficult to describe using other means of communication.

The innovative aspect of this project is the transfer of the method from vocational guidance to youth welfare and extension of the SymfoS educational approach with web courses on initial education (higher education) at universities (social care).
